WE CAN ONLY SAY THAT HIS INTITALS ARE "J. D."

When a woman travels ten miles merely to sak a few questions we may assume that her ourisalty is excited. In the year 1883 a story went forth from Leverstock Green, Hemel Hempstead, Herte, which aroused great interest in all the region thereabout. People came from various directions to enquire into the matter; what was alleged to have occurred had to do mostly with one man. If the story turned out to be true some good was likely to come of it; if false, it would only put the community more on their guard against all sorts of wild rumours. Among the women who were bound to get at the foundafrom Langley. How strangely things work out in this queer world. Seven years have passed and the facts are now to become generally public for the first time. It appears that about the first of January, 1883, an old resident of the place above named was said, and commonly believed, to be in a dying condition. For five months an able and clever physician had been attending him constantly, no medical man could have done more. His ailment was decided to be gout and rheumatism, which are now held to be practically the same malady differently located. Well, this began back in July, 1882, As time ran along the patient grew worse. The doctor's ability and experience didn't seem to count. The sufferer's ankles, feet, and hands became badly swollen. We all know this must have been a scary symptom because that the fluids of his body (and the body is nearly all fluid anyway), instead of being carried off as they naturally should be, were flowing over their channels and inundating the parts around 15. British b'tine Waratah, Krause, Nov. 30, them, just as a stream does after heavy rains. The doctor said the danger of this state of 16. British str., Tars, Hansard, Nov. 12, from things lay in the fact that when the water reached the heart or langs it might end in sudden death. The sause of dropsy is the refusal of the kidneys to carry off the water; so much is plain. But what makes the kidneys strike work? We now know the reason of that. It poison in the blood, arising from undigested food in the stomsch. In plain English, a chronic state of indigestion and dyspepsia was responsible for results which now threatened our unknown friend's life. It was reportedand of its truth there isn't a doubt-that his abdomen was blown like a bladder on account of the water which scaked all through his flesh. In conversation a few weeks ago, he said, "All my friends now looked on me as a dying man." And reasonably enough too; for what chance is there for a man who is gradually drowning in this way? For that is what it was -drawning and nothing else in the world. Medicine appeared to be of no use, and the physician suggested that possibly the poor man might be > scene and air. But nobody believed in that plan. and in honest truth, it is hardly likely that the wise physician believed in it himself. At all events the idea wasn't put into practice. About this time the patient's wife happened to be in the shop of a chemist at Hemel Hompstead, and he gave her a little book, a sort small pamphlet, and said she might like to read it. She did read it; and found in it a full description of the very complaint that was fast sending her husband to his grave, and also the name of what was asserted to be a remedy for i After some trouble she got him to consent try it, and sent for a bottle. He began, and kept it up for four months, taking twenty-six bottles altogether. At the end of that time he was a well, sound man, and is so to-day. The whole neighbourhood was attaged. His recovery, when he had been looked upon as no better than Seigel's Curative Syrup." Our friend requests us not to publish his
